Among the missing are Mrs. George Bear, Michigan City, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leggett, Michigan City.

Dawn Breaks.

Porter, Indiana, Feb. 28.—Thirty-four were known to have been killed when dawn lighted up the scene of the rail disaster here, today and sealed rescue parties, half frantic with the nightmare they had been through, still tearing at the wreckage to recover bodies believed to be pinned in the twisted mass of steel and wood. At this time, the number of injured was placed at close to 100.

Most of those injured who did not die within an hour or two, were but slightly hurt.

The air was filled with shrieks and moans from the injured and the dying, many of whom were pinned beneath the wreckage. Trainmen, passengers and townspeople, armed with axes and picks, climbed over the wreckage, chopping away timbers and dragging the injured out to safety. Between eighteen and twenty cars were strewn along the right-of-way at crazy angles, while two were reduced to kindling wood.

Late in the night, two cranes and a wrecker toiled in the blue glare of flares in an effort to bring order out of chaos. Special agents and deputy sheriffs patroled the scene of the wreck to prevent possible looting. The ground for a mile and even the telegraph poles were covered with splinters of wood, glass, wood, pieces from the victims.

Victims were torn from the wreckage of the New York Central coaches and even high into the air, as the cars crushed in.

GERMANS MUST MEET DEMANDS

Allies Will Not Stand for Further Evasion.

LONDON CONFERENCE TO BE DECISIVE

Germans Will Not Be Permitted To "Jockey."

Allies Are Prepared To Take Military Action To Enforce Terms If Necessary—No Concessions Expected.

London, Feb. 28.—The allies are "all set" for the indemnity conference. As a result of the meeting Sunday of the allied statesmen and military chieftains at Premier Lloyd George's country residence at Chequers, the allies are ready to stand shoulder to shoulder against the Germans and will not grant any considerable concessions. It was declared today.

When the conference opens, Wednesday, the allies will be ready for any eventuality—even military action, if the Germans balk at paying the sums demanded.

Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, chief of the British imperial staff, were engaged, today, in drawing up a military report which will be submitted, Wednesday. Marshal Foch has furnished full details of a plan for further armed intervention in Germany to enforce payment.

Fears were expressed in official circles, over the fact that Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister, comes as the only formal spokesman of the German government. It is believed that the German delegates will contend that all decisions rest with the German cabinet.

This would mean a repetition of the delays in the Near-East conference, with everything of importance being submitted to Berlin for consideration by the ministry.

Both Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand are opposed to any such "jockeying." They want swift and direct tactics, so that the final decisions can be cleared up at the earliest possible moment.

The Germans will be allowed to present their counter-proposals as to the time and methods of payment and the substitution of equivalents of equal value, such as gold and merchandise, but the allies are determined that the amount shall not be lessened.

The Evening News printed a despatch from Ostend, containing an interview with Dr. Simons, who had arrived there on his way to London in which the German foreign minister was quoted as saying:

"The German delegation earnestly wants reparations definitely settled. What we sign, the Germans and the German government will carry out without threats or constraint. We hope that talk of penalties will be dropped."

PANAMA GETS READY FOR WAR

Prepares for Hostilities with Costa Rica.

RUSHING TROOPS INTO THE FIELD

Both Nations Belong to League of Nations.

Panama Announces That She Will Not Consult the League Until Intentions of Her Opponent Are More Defined.

Balboa, Canal Zone, Feb. 28.—Although Panama has no regular army, she is continuing to send volunteers into the field and otherwise preparing for war against Costa Rica, as a result of the quarrel over territory in the Chiriqui district on the Pacific coast.

A report that hostilities had already opened near Golfo Dulce is not officially confirmed by the Panaman government. Word is expected from the commander of the volunteers in that district, this afternoon. Otherwise, volunteers will reach the village of Coto in the same neighborhood, during the day.

No reply has yet been received to the communication addressed by Panama to Costa Rica, Saturday, demanding an explanation of the movement of Costa Rican troops across the border. Nor has any reply come from Washington to the request for arms and ammunition formally made to the United States government by Panama, February 24. So far, there is no indication that the United States will intervene.

Both Panama and Costa Rica are members of the league of nations, but Panama announced that she will not send any notice to the league regarding the aggressive action of Costa Rica until the Costa Rican government makes a formal statement as to her intentions.

For Conference.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Pan-American union was called upon, today, to call an immediate conference of representatives of Panama and Costa Rica to adjust differences between those two nations, by Henry M. Hill, a former Panaman official, who is here. The diplomatic representatives of Peru, Argentina and Chile were asked to support the movement and the secretary of state of the United States was informed of the action taken.

FOREIGN LOANS HELD A SECRET

Houston Fails To Deliver Papers to Committee.

GIVES DOCUMENTS TO SECRETARY COLBY

Who Is To Determine Regarding Their Use.

Members of Senate Probe Committee Bitter Over Broken Promise—Wilson To Send No Farewell Message.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Instead of producing the official documents and other papers bearing on foreign loans as he had promised to do, Secretary Houston sent word to the senate judiciary committee, today, that he had turned them all over to Secretary Colby to determine whether they should be made public.

Houston's action was bitterly criticized by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri; Senator Cummins, of Iowa, and other members of the committee, as a "deliberate and palpable attempt to suppress the facts regarding the course pursued by the treasury department in connection with foreign loans."

A special meeting of the committee was called for this afternoon, by Senator Knut Nelson, Republican, Minnesota, for the purpose of "considering ways and means of compelling the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of state to produce the papers."

"It is evident the secretary of the treasury has passed the buck to the secretary of state," Senator Cummins declared.

Senator Nelson read a letter on the subject he had received from Secretary Houston and one accompanying it Secretary Houston had addressed to Secretary Colby, regarding the matter.

A Caller Today.

Washington, Feb. 28.—A. W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, who is slated for the post of secretary of the treasury in the cabinet of President-Elect Harding, called at the treasury department today.

An Accounting.

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Wilson has prepared a complete accounting of the $150,000,000 given him for war purposes by congress and will send the accounting to congress, today or tomorrow, it was announced at the White House, today.

No Farewell Message.

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Wilson will send no farewell message to congress, it was stated at the White House, today. The president has indicated that he has sent his last communication to congress, unless he desires to communicate with relation to legislative matters yet to be laid before him.

This announcement from the White House was interpreted as offsetting reports that the president had planned to send the treaty back to the senate before leaving office. There was no indication of any such action, today.

Expected To Stay.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The case of Donald O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived in the United States a stowaway and was ordered to leave but later appealed that he be permitted to remain as a political refugee, will probably go over to the Harding administration. It was learned, today.

Michael Francis Doyle, counsel for O'Callaghan, called at the state department, today. He said he has received no reply to his request that O'Callaghan be classified as a political refugee. "Lord Mayor O'Callaghan is here and we expect him to stay here for some time," Doyle said.

A DESTROYER SUNK SUNDAY

Craft Rammed by Steamer Off Panama Coast.

FIFTEEN OF CREW REPORTED MISSING

More Than 100 Survivors Are Picked Up—Destroyer Cut in Twain.

Washington, Feb. 28.—One naval enlisted man is dead, fifteen are missing and two are injured as the result of a collision between the American destroyer Woolsey and the American steamer Steel Inventor off the Pacific coast of Panama.

The Woolsey was cut in two at the after tank by the collision and sank at 6 a. m. Sunday, while in tow of the American destroyer Aaron Ward, which, with the destroyer Philip, have 112 of the Woolsey's survivors aboard.

The collision was reported to the navy department by Admiral Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, to which the Woolsey, one of the navy's most modern destroyers, was attached. The damage to the Steel inventor was slight and no casualties occurred among her crew.

The collision, Admiral Rodman reported, occured thirteen miles southwest of Coiba island. After the Woolsey had been cut in two the outer part of the ship was flooded. The destroyer sank as an attempt was being made to bring her into a port. The report to the navy department did not explain the manner in which the missing men were lost, whether due to the collision and the flooding of their vessel or whether carried down when she sank.

The Woolsey was commanded by Commander H. C. Gearing, Jr. She had a length of 310 feet, a breadth of thirty-one feet and a normal displacement of 1,154 tons. Her speed was rated at forty-five knots and her normal complement was sixteen officers and 196 men.

Thomas S. Woodcock, first-class engineman, was killed in the collision.

HARDING TRAIN SPEEDS NORTH

President-Elect and Party on Way to Marion.

FINISHING TOUCHES BEING GIVEN SPEECH

Not Expected Inaugural Address Will Be Long.

Preident-Elect and Mrs. Harding Plan To Leave Marion for Washington Next Wednesday Night, It Is Said.

Aboard President-Elect Harding's Special Train, Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 28.—President-Elect Harding's train pulled into Chattanooga a half-hour ahead of time and made a stop of twenty minutes. Mr. Harding, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, left their car and walked through the station to enjoy the sunshine of a typical Tennessee winter day. A large number of Chattanoogans were on hand an greeted Mr. and Mrs. Harding.

On Way North.

Enroute with President-Elect Harding, Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 28.—President-Elect Harding whipped his inaugural address into shape, today, while his special train sped northward on the first leg of its journey to Washington. With only a few stops scheduled, Senator Harding planned to put in some hours of uninterrupted work on his forthcoming message and by the time Marion is reached, tomorrow morning, it is expected that the speech will have been completed.

The president-elect wants to get all business of a pressing nature out of the way so far as is possible, in order that his last visit with Marion home folk may be unencumbered with official duties. His Marion neighbors have arranged to give the president-elect an enthusiastic send-off.

The Harding train ran special after leaving Jacksonville last night. It passed through Atlanta at an early hour, this morning, over the Southern route and was due in Chattanooga at 10:45 a. m. Cincinnati will be reached tonight and Marion, early Tuesday morning.

The president-elect will have two full days in his home town before proceeding on to Washington to be inaugurated, Friday. The Harding home on Mount Vernon avenue, the scene of many activities during the campaign, has been rented and the president-elect and Mrs. Harding will stay at the home of his father, Dr. George T. Harding, during their visit in Marion.

According to present plans, the president-elect and Mrs. Harding will leave Marion, Wednesday night, arriving in the capital Thursday afternoon. They will go direct to the presidential suite at the Willard.

Indications are that the Harding Inaugural, Friday, will be one of the shortest on record. Those around the president-elect said, today, that nothing elaborate in the way of a speech is planned and that it will be devoted mainly to domestic matters.

No further announcements as the cabinet are expected from Mr. Harding, until he presents the names to the senate for confirmation, March 4.

The ex-speaker is suffering from a complication of diseases, but the pleurisy which had set in had made his condition critical. It is hoped that the operation performed last night will relieve his condition.

A consultation of physicians will be held this morning.

JAPAN DEMANDS YAP MANDATE

United States Held in No Position To Interfere.

TOKYO DISCUSSES AMERICAN PROTEST

Japs Base Claims on Final Decision of League's Supreme Council in May, 1919.

Tokyo, Feb. 28.—Japan will insist upon its mandatory to the island of Yap, according to authoritative Japanese opinion. The protest of the United States government to the council of the league of nations has aroused great interest in Japan as a new move on a matter which has already been lengthily, but thus far unsuccessfully, discussed directly by the governments of Japan and the United States.

It is explained here that Japan bases her mandatory on the final decision of the supreme council in May, 1919, which handed over the German islands north of the equator to Japan without mention of reservation. If President Wilson made oral reservations regarding Yap at previous deliberations of the council, it is declared that Japan was not represented and has no official cognizance of this.

Japan will take the stand that the mandatory means control of the cables on the same status as Germany prior to the war. During the war Japan diverted the Yap end of the cable from Shanghai to the Lee-Choo — Liu-Kiu — islands, between Japan and Formosa, for administration purposes. Therefore cable communication from America to Shanghai by way of Guam and Yap does not exist.

It is understood that Japan has suggested to the United States to lay a cable direct to Shanghai from Guam as a substitute for the Yap route.

Among the newspapers the Nichi Nichi takes the view that the United States is in no position to interfere, because it has not ratified the peace treaty and has not entered the league. But it adds, considering America's share in winning the war, it would be immoral not to consider the contentions of America.

BODIES TAKEN FROM WRECK

Terrible Sights as Victims Are Removed.

REMAINS PILED IN UNDERTAKER'S PLACE

Many Are Mangled and Burned Beyond Recognition.

A State Investigation of Wreck of New York Central and Milhigan Central Flier Is Promised by the Officials.

Chesterton, Indiana, Feb. 28.—A state investigation of the Michigan Central-New York Central train wreck opened, today, as Coroner H. O. Selpel, of Valparaiso, Indiana, began his investigation of the cause of the wreck and made plans to accommodate relatives of the forty-two victims who thus far have been extricated from the debris.

This story is being written in the midst of the ill-fated bodies in the undertaking establishment of Bird & Groff. On one side of the writer, piled like cordwood, are adult bodies of men, slight women and golden-haired children. Twenty feet to the rear, are many bodies—nondescript—some of which never will be given the name that was given them by those who, today, might walk through this establishment and not recognize their own.

As this story is being written, they are carrying to the [illegible] her and her little child—only [illegible] old. They are numbers 39 and 40. The child's hair is singed. The mother's face is burned beyond recognition. They have placed the mother and child upon the floor, alongside of two other women who left Chicago on the ill-fated train attired in fashionable and good dresses.

Just three feet from this tragic sight, are the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Nobody, who left Chicago in the form of a man or woman and briskly walked to the train which left, last night. Today, in this furniture store and undertaking parlor, this form is only a bundle and it is doubtful whether one piece of that form can be restored to lifelike appearance, so that identification may be made. To the left of the writer, with a smile on his face in death, lies a husky product of the Canadian Northwest. His face is scarred and his body is bruised. He was Peter Cain, of Regina, Saskatchewan. His entire makeup is one of strength and virility and suggests immediately the lumberjack, or mounted policeman.

On the Stretcher.

Further on the left, lies Pearl Cavanagh resting upon a stretcher and keeping her company in death, on the same stretcher, is Mrs. Ralph See, of Michigan City, Indiana. Burned about the head and chest and scalded all over the body, Claude Johnson, Elkhart, Indiana, engineer on the New York Central train, lies, his teeth set in determination and his fists clenched, as if he had died fighting.

Six embalmers, directed by Stevens Bird, are going about their work of preservation of the bodies that are in a condition to be held and they are working like Trojans, making the bodies presentable for identification.

Coroner Selpel has pushed everything aside for the convenience of the public and the relatives that wish to attempt to identify the victims of the wreck.

Coroner Selpel has postponed the coroner's inquest until the identification of the bodies has been completed.

DECISIONS OF SUPREME COURT

Lever Act Is Declared To Be Unconstitutional Today.

FARM-LOAN ACT IS HELD CONSTITUTIONAL

Kentucky Special Tax on Whisky Is Held Unconstitutional by Court.

Washington, Feb 28.—The Lever food and fuel control act was declared invalid and unconstitutional, today, by the United States supreme court. The opinion of the court was handed down by Chief Justice White. The legality of the act was challenged by lawyers of different concerns from as many different angles. Lower courts had divided on the constitutionality of the act.

Justice White condemned the law as being so broad as to be unsafe and amounted to a mere delegation of legislative power to court and jury.

Newberry Case.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The supreme court of the United States adjourned, late this afternoon, without handing down a decision on the appeal of Senator Truman Newberry, of Michigan, convicted of conspiracy to violate the election laws.

Income Tax Act.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The income tax act of 1916 does not impose a tax on legacies bequeathed by wills, the United States supreme court, today, decided in the test case of Stanley Field, executor of the estate of Kate Field.

This was an action brought to recover taxes alleged to have been unlawfully assessed. The property assessed, passed by the execution of the general power of appointment, authorized by the will of Mrs. Field's husband.

The court of claims held that the act of 1916 did not impose a tax on gifts made by will, but relates to transfers made before death.

Constitutional.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The federal farm-loan act was declared constitutional, today, by the United States supreme court and the court declared farm-land banks are lawful institutions, authorized to issue bonds. The opinion was rendered by Justice Day.

The case was brought by Charles E. Smith, of Kansas City. The main question involved was whether congress had the power to create federal land banks, joint-stock land banks and to exempt the bonds which both classes of banks were authorized to issue, from federal, state, local and municipal taxation.

Smith was a stockholder in the Kansas City Title & Trust company and he brought action to restrain the trust company from investing any of its funds in farm loans, contending that there was no authority in the federal constitution for the creation of federal-land banks, or of joint-stock-land banks and that provisions for the exemption of farm loan bonds were unconstitutional.

Smith's bill was dismissed in the lower court for want of equity.

The action of the lower court was sustained by the decision of the supreme court.

Petition Denied.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The United States supreme court, today, held that the Ohio federal court, having in its jurisdiction in the receivership of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railway, could take jurisdiction in a complaint against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company, holder of the bonds of the Toledo company, that the bonds were fraudulently secured by the Rock Island company. The petition of the Rock Island company asking an injunction against the Ohio federal court from considering this complaint of certain stockholders of the Toledo company, was denied.

Can Operate Lines.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The city of Detroit will be permitted to acquire and operate its city railway lines, under a decision of the United States supreme court, today.

Whisky Tax.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Kentucky fifty-cents-a-gallon tax on whisky, of March 12, 1920, was declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court, today. The decision was rendered in test cases brought by the Kentucky Distilleries Warehouse company and J. & A. Friedberg, Inc.

Writ Is Filed.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Petition for a writ of certiorari, today, was filed in the United State supreme court, in the case of William D. Haywood and seventy-eight other members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who were convicted after sensational trials in Chicago, in 1918, on charges of conspiracy to violate the selective-service act and the espionage act.

The main contention is that the search warrants used by the federal agents who seized tons of books, records and documents in more than fifty simultaneous raids, September 5, 1917, were invalid.

The petition recites that the documents seized were submitted to the grand jury and that the indictments returned were based upon this evidence. This procedure, it is claimed, was in violation of the fourth and fifth amendments to the constitution.

M. S. ADAMS HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Vacant House in Country Burned—Heavy Loss.

The large home of M. S. Adams, about four miles east of the city on the Claridon pike, was totally destroyed by fire about 12:25 o'clock this morning. The house has not been occupied for the past two months, Mr. Adams having contracted for the sale of the farm to J. L. Price, but the latter was not to take possession until March 1 and the deal was not closed.

The house was empty except for a range which was installed for the water heating. The house was modern in every respect and was valued at from $7,000 to $8,000, the loss being covered by insurance. Since Mr. Adams vacated the premises, Mr. Price has been looking after them and on several visits to the house he found the doors unlocked. On receiving the call at the time of the fire, Mr. Price took one of the firemen from No. 1 department and some chemicals, but the house was beyond being saved on their arrival. It is thought the fire may have been started by some person who was taking shelter in the house.

SINN FEINERS ARE EXECUTED

Six Are Shot in Pairs in Cork This Morning.

HUNDREDS WAIT OUTSIDE PRISON

Three Big Raids Are Made by British Military and Police Today—An Ambucade.

Dublin, Feb. 28.—Six condemned Sinn Feiners were executed by British military authorities at Cork this morning.

The prisoners were executed in pairs. The first pair met death at 6 o'clock, the second pair at 7:15 and the third pair, at 8:30 o'clock. The men met death bravely. They walked to the execution field and refused to be blindfolded.

Hundreds of persons waited outside the prison. Many knelt in prayer.

Five of the condemned men had been convicted of taking part in an ambush of crown forces. The sixth had been convicted of a similar offense committed at another time.

All of the executed men were about twenty years of age.

As the firing squad poured in a volley, a chaplain rushed forward, kneeling over the prostrate forms to administer extreme unction.

Three gigantic raids were made here, during the morning, by the military and police forces. They were carried out in the Stephens college, the Mount Joy and O'Connell street districts.

Two Wounded.

London, Feb. 28.—Two Sinn Feiners were wounded when a detachment of fifteen British policemen was ambushed near Mullingar, Ireland this morning. There were fifty men in the attacking party. They fired upon the police from the roadside and the latter returned the fire, wounding two of the republicans.

Advices from Dublin, this afternoon, said the police suffered no casualties.

BASKETBALL

Girls' Basket-Ball Tourney.

Friday evening in the Harding High school gymnasium were played the first games in the girls basket-ball tournament, the Freshmen versus Juniors and Sophomore versus Seniors. Both games were hotly contested as the scores indicate. The first half of the Freshman-Junior game found the teams well matched, neither being able to gain noticeably the half ending in a two-to-one score for the Juniors. In the second half the Freshmen came back strong, considerably encouraged by the success in thus far holding the upper class team. The result was a victory for the "green" team, it topping the Juniors nine to eight.

The Sophomores and Seniors played an even game the first half with a four-four score. Then in the second half the game seemed secure for the Seniors until in the last five minutes, the Sophomores, following the example of the Freshmen, proceeded to climb upon the upper-class opponents, finally defeating them thirteen to eleven. The line-up was as follows:

Freshmen, 9.	Pos.	Juniors, 8.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Evangelist's Busy Day.

With audiences that filled the church auditorium and overflowed into the Sunday-school rooms, the second week of the Newlin meetings at the First Presbyterian church, ended Sunday. The final week of the campaign will begin this evening with Sunday, March 6 as the closing day.

A decision service in the Sunday-school Sunday morning brought most gratifying results. Preparations are being made for the receiving of members into the church in the near future.

Dr. Newlin's portrayel Sunday morning of the crucifixion of Christ was a masterful setting forth of the events and words of the last twenty-four hours of the Savior's earthly life. The appeal for decisions at the close brought many responses.

Mrs. O. A. Newlin addressed a large audience of women and girls at the Trinity Baptist church Sunday afternoon at the same hour that Dr. Newlin was speaking to men in the First Presbyterian church. Next Sunday afternoon Dr. Newlin will give a message for men, but women will be invited as the men's guests.

Dr. Newlin's theme will be "The Four Cylinder Man."

The evangelist has promised some prizes in a series of three sermons on the following themes: "The Seven Wonders of the World," "The Seven Wonders of Heaven," and "The Seven Wonders of Hell."

The services will begin each evening with a song service by C. E. Bonsey.

Mrs. Newlin will address a meeting of women and girls in the First Presbyterian church Friday, afternoon at 2:30.

Mission Is Closed.

The men's mission at St. Mary's Catholic church closed Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock with the conferring of the papal benediction and a sermon by Rev. Father Friedlin Stauble. Masses were celebrated Sunday morning at 6:30, 7:30, 8:30 and 10 o'clock. Father Isadore Rafferty delivered a sermon at 10 o'clock mass.

The two Franciscan missionaries left this morning for Indianapolis. They will open a mission in Bellevue next Sunday.

At Wesley M. E. Church.

Dr. J. D. Darling delivered the second of a series of sermons Sunday evening to a good-sized audience at Wesley M. E. church. The pastor took for his subject, "The Second Coming of Christ." Dr. Darling filled the pulpit at the Mt. Olive church Sunday afternoon. There was a good attendance.

Ralph A. Ward, former centenary worker in China, will give a free illustrated lecture on "China" Friday evening at the church. Dr. W. Mck Brackney, district superintendent will conduct the second quarterly conference at the church Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock.

Delivers Three Sermons.

Rev. J. T. Mayberry, of Philadelphia, delivered three sermons, Sunday, at the all-day meeting held at the Nazarene church. Sixteen persons were converted at the close of last night's service, making a total of twenty-five conversions during the week's convention which closed with last night's meeting. The cottage prayer service will be held Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Anderson, of Park boulevard.

At Forest Lawn Church.

Rev. J. B. Brice, pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church, took for his evening sermon subject, Sunday, "Follow Me; and He Arose and Followed Him." A solo, "The Day Ended," was sung by Mrs. J. W. McNeal, and Ralph Kinney sang "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go!" One new member was taken in at the close of the services. Both the morning and evening services were well attended. The evangelistic services Wednesday evening will begin at 7 instead of 7:30 o'clock.

Willing Workers.

Miss Gertrude Reeves was hostess to the members of the Willing Worker' class, of the Nazarene church, Saturday afternoon, at her home on east George street. A program of songs was followed by a social hour.

Epworth Official Board Meeting.

A meeting of the official board of the Epworth M. E. church will be held at the church this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mt. Zion Baptist Mission.

The Mt. Zion Baptist mission, No. 719 Hoyle street, was formally opened Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with services in charge of Rev. S. B. Beauford, district missionary of the Eastern Ohio district, and Rev. William Brown, assisting.

William Hale, Harry Booker and Abner Locke were appointed deacons, with Mrs. Belle Hale as deaconess. F. E. Wilson was named trustee and Harry Booker as clerk. Rev. Milton J. Beaumont is acting pastor.

Seventh Anniversary.

The seventh anniversary of the church and Sunday-school was observed with a combined service at the Greenwood Evangelical church, Sunday morning. The service was largely attended and there were three speakers on the program and special music. All of the addresses were very interesting.

Mrs. Frank Donaugh, starter of the Sunday-school gave an account of its origin. She told how it was started in the Mark Street school building, February 22, 1914, and after a few sessions the meeting place had to be changed to a residence. A short time later a tabernacle was erected and served as a place of observance until the dedication of the church in June, 1916.

William Corenflo, superintendent of the Sunday-school, gave a review of the growth of the Sunday-school in membership, and what had been accomplished regarding growth and advancement in other ways.

Rev. A. F. Beery, the pastor, spoke on the three looks, "Backward, Upward and Forward." He spoke of the advancement that has been made in various ways and submitted figures. His financial report showed that the debt on the church and parsonage had been reduced from little over $3,000 to $4,300 since he assumed the pastorate little more than three years ago.

Daughter of Ruth.

The Daughters of Ruth Bible class met at the home of Miss Eleanor Koenig, last Friday evening. The class decided to give a social and after the meeting a social hour followed. Miss Marion Gilmore was a guest.

Brotherhood Day.

Brotherhood day was observed at the First United Brethren church yesterday with a splendid address by Attorney John H. Clark in the morning and a sermon by the pastor in the evening. Mr. Clark's address put special stress on the life that is lived by the individual instead of the profession he made, and urged every one to be careful how he lived as others were following his footsteps. The sermon by Dr. Laughbaum in the evening was on "True Manhood." He emphasized that complete manhood included the culture of the body, mind and heart, giving as the only safe example the life of Christ.

The Young Men's Glee club, directed by B. K. Hill, furnished excellent music for the services.

There will be a meeting of the official board of the church Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Revival at Agosta.

The revival services which are being conducted at the Methodist church at Agosta by the pastor, Rev. W. M. Keller, are growing in interest daily. Twenty persons have made altar confessions since the beginning of the services. The Sunday service was well attended and three conversions made.

The meetings will continue throughout the week. A feature of the services this evening will be the singing of the Booster choir, composed of thirty-five boys and girls. A number of organizations will attend the meetings in a body this week. The Rebekah lodge will attend Wednesday evening, and Thursday evening is to be observed as father-son night. Mother-daughter night will be observed Friday night.

At Fite Memorial Church.

Nineteen new members were received into the church at the close of the morning service, Sunday, at Fite Memorial Baptist church. There was an attendance of 440 in the Bible school. There was a good attendance at the evening service and four conversions made. A number of persons will be baptized at the Wednesday evening services.

Great Day at Calvary Church.

Sunday was recognized by all present to be one of the greatest days Calvary church has ever had. It was greatest in attendance, in interest, and in results. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. C. L. Allen, preached on the subject, "Going Further," and in the evening on "Divine Forgiveness." At the afternoon service, Rev. J. R. Dallas, of Columbus, spoke on the theme, "Where Art Thou," and Rev. C. W. Ruhlman, of the Bellefontaine avenue mission, led in the opening prayer. Mr. Reep sang a solo at each service, and there were special numbers by the chorus choir, men's chorus, and male quartet. As a result of the day's services there was a total of forty-two conversions and reclamations, with the promise of many more to follow this week. Services will continue throughout the week at 7:30 p. m.

Revival Is Opened.

Revival services began at the Central Christian church Sunday, and four new members were taken into the church. The attendance at Sunday-school was the largest in the history of Rev. M. L. Buckley's pastorate here.

Rev. Royal Brown, of Bellefontaine, will be here this evening to take charge of the special meetings.

At Spiritualist Church.

John G. Smith, of Toledo, spoke on the phenomena of spiritualism at the First Spiritualist church on north Main street, Sunday.

We Wish To Announce That

All Our Stocks—Throughout All Our Store Are Priced on the Lowest of The New Price Levels

Months and months ago we started taking our losses.

We didn't try to sidestep the inevitable.

While Stores generally were putting off—and hoping against hope—trying to sell their stocks at the regular prices, we took the other attitude and began, then and there, taking our medicine and having it over with.

We've just recently ended our 1920-21 business year and have taken our annual inventory.

We haven't anything much in the way of profits to show for the past year's efforts. The losses we took wiped out all that.

But we have got a mighty clean stock of new merchandise.

All the old, high-priced goods are gone.

New goods at the new lower prices fill our shelves.

The merchandise is right. The values and prices are right.

You don't have to wait until we have marked our prices down.

They are down now—to the last notch.

You are perfectly safe in buying whatever new merchandise you may need for Spring at the present time.

MOUSER UPHOLDS MAYOR IN SOAKING OF PALMER

Who Is Fined $1.000 for Illegal Handling of Booze.

LEWIS C. HICKOK IS GRANTED A DIVORCE

Cloy A. Baker Sues Herman E. Roush for $1,500 Damage as Result of Collision.

Judge Grant E. Mouser, in an opinion filed this morning, sustained Mayor T. E. Andrews' court in the case of J. W. Palmer, plaintiff-in-error, against the state of Ohio, defendant-in-error. Palmer was found guilty in the mayor's court December 18 of a charge of having intoxicating liquors in his possession in his place of business on north Main street and fined $1,000. The arrest took place December 15.

Through DeGalley & DeGalley, Palmer took the case to the common pleas court, alleging the lower court erred and the verdict was contrary to the law and the evidence.

Judge Mouser, in his opinion states that the evidence shows generally beyond a reasonable doubt, by circumstance and proof, that Palmer had intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes and sale in his possession. The court reviewed the evidence, which brought out that there were, in the back room, a number of empty bottles with labels to show that the contents had contained sixty to seventy per cent. alcohol by volume. The court found no error in the admission of the bottles in evidence.

New Parties Without Leave.

Through H. E. Hill and William P. Moloney, a motion to strike out the amended petition has been filed by the defendants in the suit of Enos D. Irey and Clarence L. Irey against John L. Seeds. The plaintiffs are suing for $2,575.55 alleged due them for labor and use of an automobile truck in hauling stone from March 1 to October 1, 1920.

In his motion, the defendant claims new parties plaintiff have been substituted in the amended petition without leave of the court.

Motion To Strike Out.

A motion to strike out certain alleged irrelevant and prejudical matter in the petition has been filed by the defense in the injunction suit of William Allmendinger and others against John L. Berringer and others, the board of county commissioners and B. C. Decker, county auditor. The plaintiffs are seeking to enjoin the certification of assessmets for the Marion-Marysville road improvement south of Newman's bridge. The motion was filed through Fred W. Warner, prosecuting attorney.

Husband Gets Divorce.

Lewis C. Hickok was granted a divorce from Ethel Marie Hickok, Saturday afternoon, in the common pleas court. Suit for divorce was brought by Mrs. Hickok and a cross-petition was filed by the defendant. The court denied the plaintiff a divorce and granted a decree to the defendant on the ground of gross neglect of duty. The defendant was ordered to pay Mrs. Hickok $200 alimony, in installments of $10 mathly, beginning March 1. The costs were adjudged against the defendant.

Sues for Damages.

Cloy A. Baker, through John H. Clark, this morning brought suit in the common pleas court against Herman E. Roush for $1,500 alleged damages as the result of an automobile accident at the corner of High and Church streets November 8, 1920.

The plaintiff alleges he was riding his bicycle westward on east Church street and the defendant was traveling east in his automobile. As he was crossing the intersection of High street the plaintiff claims the defendant attempted to turn on Church street and struck the plaintiff.

Baker claims the force of the collision threw him twelve feet, skinning and bruising his left arm and tearing the ligaments of his left knee loose. He states the injury to his knee still causes him great pain and is permanent. The defendant is charged with being the cause of the accident through negligence and recklessness.

Election Confirmed.

Election of Elizabeth R. Dodds to take the premises at appraisement was confirmed in the common pleas court today in the partition suit of Elizabeth R. Dodds against Florence M. Welty and others. The deed and distribution of the proceeds were ordered.

Suit In Foreclosure.

Alice Hofstetter, through Crow & Williamson, today filed a foreclosure suit in the common pleas court against Clarence R. Cook and the Marion Savings, Building & Loan company.

The plaintiff states she holds a note for $122.48 delivered by Cook to Charles Hofstetter and secured by a mortgage on a lot in the Vernon Heights addition. She states the note was given November 29, 1913, and later was endorsed to her. The copy of the note bears endorsements showing that $50 have been paid on it.

The petition also states the loan company claims to have a lien on the property. The plaintiff asks that the loan company be required to set up its claim, that the court adjust the priority of the claims, order the proceeds distributed.

Sale Is Confirmed.

Sale of the property was confirmed today in the common pleas court in the partition suit of Stella B. Kraner against Henry S. Kraner and others. The deed and distribution of the proceeds were ordered.

NOT THE WHOLE BURDEN.

"It is perfectly plain that Europe intends to make the United States pay the cost of the war if possible," declared a financial writer recently. "There was first the direct proposal that the debt of Europe to the United States be cancelled, which, if granted, would be a long step toward loading the whole burden upon the United States. But that will not be accomplished, so it is now proposed to resort to the other schemes that would have been applied later if the cancellation plan had worked. For one thing, a tax is to be levied upon German exports, this tax to go into the treasuries of the nations having reparation claims against Germany. Since the United States is the chief nation having buying power, the bulk of the German sales would be made to the United States. If the scheme of the creditors works out, and thus, indirectly, the United States would pay the twelve per cent. export tax which the allies would collect.

"Then, too, we have the proposal that the allies take reparation in the form of German bonds and that these be passed on to the United States and to American concerns having money due them from the allies. This would place upon the United States the burden of collecting the amount of the bonds from Germany, which could be done by buying German goods, at the sacrifice of American home industries."

European diplomacy seems to be centering its thought and effort upon the problem of devising some scheme by which the United States, least interested in the war, can be made to bear the chief burden. Binding the United States to the league of nations, the task of the allies would be easy. Fortunately, America is free to determine her own policies in accordance with her own sense of justice and equity.

The United States is disposed now as always to deal generously with all other nations. Its attitude was demonstrated by its denial of any desire to collect indemnities from Germany. It is true that this was in part America's war. Nevertheless, the conflict did not arise out of any policies the United States had pursued. It arose directly out of the commercial ambitions of European nations, and, thought the United States is willing to bear its share, or more than its share of the cost, it is not willing to shoulder practically the whole burden of debt.

A STRAW FOR OPTIMISM.

These are times when most persons are engaged in the business of watching for straws to see which way the industrial-business winds are blowing. Assurances from many sources that business will be better soon may have their psychological effect, but the average person seeks evidence to back up this assurance.

Concrete backing for the optimism expressed in so many quarters seems to be provided by a record which is kept by the New York Tribune, which takes note of the buyers who visit the metropolis from all sections of the United States. These records are kept each month and comparisons are readily made with other periods.

The records show that visiting buyers in January, 1920, totaled 7,271, 700 more than the total for both October and November last, when the business depression began to be felt in a large degree. One year ago the demand for goods was greater than the supply.

The records for January, 1921, which have been announced by the Tribune, show that 6,710 buyers were registered in New York City, or within about 500 of the number who visited the market one year before, when the merchants were clamoring for goods to supply the demands. These buyers are in the market for business, not because they need the trip at the expense of the firms for which they work.

It is time that buyers must look some months or weeks ahead in order to be prepared for the seasonable trade, but the fact that they have confidence enough to enter into contracts should encourage the belief that "business as usual" will soon be the watchword, and that trade will again be on the upward way to industrial and commercial prosperity.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Ball Naylor]

CIVIC SPIRIT.

You talk about what your country owes you.

But do you ever think about what you owe your country?

You complain about how little your town or community does for you.

But do you ever think about how little you do for your town or your community?

You pay your taxes—yes.

But have you the proper public spirit?

Do you pay your taxes as a blessed privilege—or as a disagreeable duty?

Have you the proper civic pride and concern?

Do you speak well of your community—or do you speak ill of it?

Are you ready—at any time, at all times—to make personal sacrifice for the general good?

Do you liken your community as your servant—or do you look upon yourself as the servant of your community?

Do you ever ask yourself what it really means to be a good citizen?

Away back in the rude and crude days when Dayton was a mere log-hut village, Benjamin Van Cleve, at the close of each day's hard work, jotted down the community happenings. He used a rough blank book for the purpose. No matter how weary he was he never neglected this duty he had taken upon himself. A little thing, you say? Maybe. A more or less personal and selfish thing, you suggest? Perhaps. No matter, however, Benjamin Van Cleve kept up his diary. Ink was scarce; but he secured it. Pens were poor; but he bore with them. Friends and neighbors scoffed and jeered; he heeded them not. He kept up his diary; and that diary has served as the pioneer history of Dayton.

Fifty years later, John Van Cleve—bachelor son of Benjamin—kept another note book. He carried it in his pocket. As he went about the growing town he made observations, and thought upon them and jotted them down. He observed that this thing needed to be done, and made note of it; and then he advocated that the thing be done—and helped to have it done. He determined that another thing would be for the good of Dayton, and made record of it; and then he never rested till it was done. He grew older as the town grew older; but seldom did he go on a stroll about the town, that he did not have his note book with him—and seldom did he fail to note and record something that could be instituted or improved; and never did he neglect to advocate each new project or needed improvement—and to lend active material aid. The idea of the beautiful trees on the main street of Dayton came from John Van Cleve. To his unbounded enthusiasm Dayton owes the origin of its library system. From his own private shelves, John Van Cleve gave and loaned his own precious volumes to help start that library system.

A new school-house is needed in your town.

Are you ready to give the site, or sell the ground at a reasonable price—or are you only anxious to exact from your community every cent you can get for it?

Have you the proper civic spirit?

Your community is doing much for you.

What are you doing for it?

TWO LIMITED TRAINS CRASH

Canadian Limited, bound for Toronto, carried fourteen passengers and the other, for Montreal carried eighteen. With the exception of bruises and slight cuts none of the occupants were hurt. The two Canadian parlor cars one bound for Detroit and the other for Grand Rapids also came out unscathed.

Among the women on the New York Central train was Frances Kennedy vaudeville star. She was not injured and aided in the care of the injured.

The list of dead shows the names of Mr and Mrs A H Van Riper of Michigan City. Mr Van Riper had been an engineer on the Michigan Central for an even fifty years and drove his last engine two days ago having been retired from active duty on a pension. He and his wife had been to Chicago to celebrate the occasion.

Thilling Story.

In a statement to the International News service Joseph Coon towerman in the tower from which signals were given to control the fatal crossing, declared today that the New York Central train had the right-of-way and that the block was set to stop the Michigan Central flier. In vivid fashion he described how the crash occurred.

"Under normal conditions" he explained "the blocks are set against all trains. The train hitting the buzzer circuit first then is given the right-of-way. That is the block which is set against them is released and the train is permitted to go on.

"That is exactly what happened when the buzzer sounded last night. It showed that the New York Central train was the first to hit the buzzer, by almost a full minute ahead of the Michigan Central flier.

"I released the block when permitted the New York Central train to go through. Just as the train hit the crossing I saw the Michigan Central train coming around the curve at sixty miles an hour. I saw right away what was going to happen and thought the towner would also be demolished. I called to Charlie Whitehead, the telegraph operator with me and we made for the steps which led to the ground.

Plows Through

"The Michigan Central train by this time had hit the derail which clearly showed that the block had been set against it and plowed over the ties and tracks tearing them up as it went across the New York Central right-of-way. When the third coach of the Michigan Central train had passed over the New York Central right-of-way, the Michigan Central train cut through it. Its locomotive toppled over and the coaches of both trains scattered in all directions.

"I can not help but feel that the Michigan Central engineer was asleep, for there are two blocks that are visible almost a mile and a half before he reaches the crossing."

Another element was added to the confusion here this morning when the scanty food supply of the town was exhausted after feeding wreck victims and rescuers all night. Supplies are being rushed from Gary and other nearby towns however.

Last night's wreck was the second bad disaster on the Michigan Central in the past three years. On July 22, 1918 sixty-one persons were killed and 179 injured in a rear-end collision between an equipment train and a Wallace-Hagenbeck circus train, five miles west of Gary, Indiana, not far from the scene of the present crash. In both cases several wooden coaches contributed to the death toll.

Forty-Four Dead.

Porter, Indiana, Feb 28.—Forty-two known dead, at noon, marked the tragic toll of the New York Central-Michigan Central rail horror here. It seems certain that the death list would be swelled as rescue parties continued their search under the grim monument of wreckage which marks the scene of last night's crash of the Michigan Central Canadian" and the New York Central "Interstate Limited."

Thirty-six of the bodies were in the improvised morgue at Chesterton a mile from here and three in Michigan City, Indiana, when, just before noon, the three other bodies were found. At this hour, the number of injured was placed at close to 100. It was considered remarkable that those of the injured who did not die within an hour or two were but slightly hurt.

Four Bodies More.

Porter, Indiana, Feb 28.—Four dead more found buried at 9 o'clock this morning, under the grim monument of wreckage which marked the scene of the rail horror here brought the total known killed to thirty-eight.

The four were found crushed under a litter of twisted steel, near the huge New York Central engine and it is believed the locomotive after tearing through the Michigan Central train, dragged the bodies with it. It is believed that eight or ten bodies more still remain buried in the wreckage. The number of injured was placed, this morning, at 100.

L. W. Keeler, superintendent of schools at Michigan City, Indiana listed among the dead in an early casualty list, was not even injured in the crash.

The following statement was given out by the general superintendent of the New York Central line.

It seems certain that the Michigan Central train had taken the derail and that the engine miraculously jumped back on the track again just as the New York Central train crashed into it. Officials from Chicago and New York are en route here and will be a joint investigation and a thorough one. It is impossible to place the blame now. Calling a man guilty of such a thing means calling him guilty of murder.

Searching Debris.

Porter, Indiana, Feb 28.—With forty-eight bodies lying in the morgue at Chesterton, Indiana and rescue parties working frantically in the tangled debris to recover the bodies of others who lost their lives in the wreck here last night the coroner's inquest got under way here today for a thorough probe of one of the most gruesome disasters in railroad history. Best available estimates early this morning, placed the total number of dead at at least thirty-five. Twenty or more persons received injuries.

The wreck occurred when a New York Central flier crashed into the Canadian Limited of the Michigan Central railroad. The Canadian Limited left Chicago at 6 o'clock last night. The New York Central train known as the Interstate Limited was bound for Chicago from Boston. The crash occurred about 6:30 o'clock last night.

A thorough investigation of the catastrophe was launched by officials of both roads to determine responsibility. The towerman at the intersection of the two roads claims that the Michigan Central train ran past two block signals that had been set against it.

There is a diamond grade section of the two roads here. The Michigan Central flier had half way shot over the intersecting tracks when the New York Central limited plowed through a wooden day coach of the Canadian limited, smashing it to kindling and hurling the bodies of the killed and maimed on both side of the right-of-way.

The New York Central locomotive after striking the other train, which is said to have been traveling at sixty-mile-an-hour clip left the rails and toppled over.

Scalded to Death

The fireman was scalded to death and the engineer died soon after being taken from the wrecked and burning cab of his engine.

A majority of the victims were residents of Michigan City, Indiana. Porter has no physician and but few residents. Those available rushed to the scene with axes picks and shovels and started preliminary rescue work, together with passengers from the two trains who escaped injury.

The crash was heard for miles and soon there began pouring from the surrounding countryside scores of farmers and their wives and daughters, also there came two physicians from Chesterton, a mile away.

While women tore up their skirts to make bandages for the injured, then helped them to the homes of residents, where they were put to bed, the bodies were removed first to the town hall here and then to the undertaking [illegible] where an improvised morgue was set up. The bodies were placed on the floor on [illegible] six embalmers worked feverishly to prepare them for inquest [illegible]. Some were so mutilated as to render identification almost impossible. Four relief trains arrived here during the night from Chicago, Gary and Michigan City. The scene of desolation and death which [illegible] crash was filled with numerous dramatic incidents. MARCH RETURNS TO SHOW A DECREASE

Big Falling Off in the Excess-Profits Taxes Expected

[illegible] Feb 28.—Less [illegible] one and one-half billion dollars is expected by the treasury when the next installment comes due on March 15, or approximately $500,000,000 less than the amount collected by the government in March of last year it was said. While no official estimate has been prepared treasury fiscal experts are understood to be of the opinion that the total will not fall below $500,000,000 and will possibly reach $600,000,000. Because of the changed conditions during the past year treasury officials said no accurate estimate of the March taxes can be attempted. Falling prices, wage cuts, business losses and other factors will affect the returns officials said.

February of 1921 as fair has been fair excellent beautiful and rare. It has been unique in the calendar of months and as for artistry none in the twelve months can ever surpass the February of 1921.

Cooking Meal For 24--
Cost 9 Cents

You all know that for several years past there has been much discussion of the H. C. L.—high cost of living; and gas rates have come in for a share of unwarranted criticism.

To show you that the criticism of our gas rates was unwarranted we want to tell you how we cooked and served a meal to twenty-four persons at a fuel cost of 9 cents.

At our Fostoria office, Mr. Ed. L. Lepper, our Local Manager, and Miss Brickel, our [illegible] demonstrator, prepared and served a dinner consisting of roast pork, baked potato, pumpkin pie [illegible] rolls and other viands to members of the [illegible] Council, newspaper men and friends to the number of 24. The cooking was done on an old range with a half-ounce gas pressure, a total consumption of 200 cubic feet of gas, with an expense of 9 cents for fuel—less than a half cent per person served. This same demonstration was duplicated [illegible] our Norwalk office later and it fully corroborated the success of the Fostoria dinner as to efficiency and low gas consumption.

You can secure just as economical and satisfactory results in your own home if you follow the instructions given by our demonstrators [illegible] local gas office.

JAMES BOYD, A FARMER, STRUCK BY TRAIN, DIES

Caught at Crossing at His Home Near Agosta.

DAUGHTER HEARS WHISTLE AND SEES TRAIN STOP

Funeral Will Be Held Tuesday Afternoon at 2 O'Clock at Agosta M. E. Church.

James Boyd was fatally injured when the buggy in which he was riding was struck by Big Four passenger train No. 10, Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the crossing at his home, one mile east of Agosta, on the Marion pike.

Mr. Boyd was returning home from Agosta and was alone when the accident occurred. He was thrown several yards between the double tracks, his ribs and the back of his head being crushed and his right leg broken in two places. He was carried into the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Brown, with whom he resided, where he died in a few minutes without regaining consciousness.

Horse Instantly Killed.

The horse was instantly killed and the buggy badly smashed. Mrs. Brown heard the train whistle, saw it stop and later saw the trainmen pick up her father.

Mr. Brown was sixty-five years old last September 26. He was a farmer and had made his home near Agosta for the past twenty years. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Roy Brown, of Agosta; Mrs. Emma McClaskey, of Marion; Mrs. Leon Bilger, of Hepburn; Jesse Boyd, of Mt. Victory; Arthur Boyd, of Lima; Wilbur Boyd, in army service, and Wirt Boyd, of Marion.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church at Agosta. Burial will be made in the LaRue cemetery.

KEEP BLOOD IN FIGHTING TRIM

Thin-Blooded People Should Strengthen the Blood with a Good Tonic To Keep Off Contagious Disease.

TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

If You Tire Easily and Feel Run Down, Your Blood Needs More Red Corpuscles. Watch Your Blood Condition Now.

It is thin-blooded, anemic people that disease strikes first. If any of the disease germs that so often become epidemic catch you in a run-down condition, they are able to take hold—and the first thing you know you are ill. But if you are in good condition, your blood vigorous, rich and red, your system is able to throw off the effects of germs that are so prevalent when an epidemic breaks out.

Make up your mind to this fact—you are either well or you are not well. And the common-sense thing to do is to be on the safe side. If you are in doubt, take that wonderful blood tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It makes blood rich and red. It increases the number of red corpuscles, and your system is better able to fight the ravages of epidemics.

Watch your children. If they are pale and weak and thin-blooded give them Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form and is sold by druggists everywhere. The liquid and tablets have exactly the same medicinal value. Buy which-ever you prefer, and be sure it is genuine "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." The name "Gude's" is on the package.—Adv.

NEW HOUSE MEMBERS TO HOLD A CAUCUS

Present Organization Likely To Be Continued.

Washington, Feb. 28.—By actual count the Republican majority in the new house will be two and some leaders expressed anxiet... that the new men who come in with the November landslide and who are here for the reorganization meeting tonight might want to take a hand in selecting officers to serve for the next two years.

The opinion generally was expressed however that Speaker Gillette and Representative Mondell of Wyoming the Republican leader would be re-elected. Their friends say they will be unopposed.

Representative Knutson of Minnesota Republican whip expects opposition. The all powerful committee on committees, which makes assignments to the various standing committees will be named at the conference and chances are most of the present members will hold over.

Leaders predicted there would be no important changes in the heads of the big committees and that the seniority rule would still hold. Chairman Esch of the interstate commerce committee will retire and his place probably will be taken by Representative Winslow of Massachusetts ranking Republican member.

BUSINESS MEN VOTE AGAINST SALES TAX

Demand Repeal of Excess-Profits Tax at Once

Washington, Feb. 28.—Strong opposition to any form of sales tax was registered by American business in a referendum vote of the organizations within the membership of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the results of which have been made public. An overwhelming demand for repeal of the excess profits tax was made.

The ballot was taken on a report of the national chamber's committee on taxation which advanced 16 proposals for changes in present methods of federal taxation.

Although the committee recommended substitution for the excess profits tax the vote on these proposals was not conclusive. A considerable majority voted against an increase in income taxes and at the same time there was a majority vote against any form of sales tax which had been suggested both as a substitute for and as an addition to other forms of tax. A proposal that excess profits be levied partly to take the place of the excess profits tax was voted.

There still [illegible] however, the shameful look in her eyes which had come there [illegible] Lilian's arrival when the color [illegible] of Lil's room was made known to her. And I knew that the little woman beneath her surface resentment was busily engaged in conjecture and in questioning her own wisdom.

She has one of the tenderest hearts in the world, this ofttime provoking, little neighbor of mine, and it can be counted upon to sway her actions, unless her positively selfish stubbornness is aroused—then there is no hope of stirring her from the path in her chosen. I fervently hoped there would be no further speech which might rouse her resentful obstinacy.

It was Lilian again who diverted all our minds to pointing a dramatic forefinger toward a large and beautifully [illegible] which stood in front of a [illegible] in the apartment. Evidently it was a [illegible] of the partition of which had been torn down.

"Don't tell me, Edith," she cried, "that you actually [illegible] kitchen [illegible] up here!"

Edith smiled—no one could have helped it at Lilian's tone—and walked toward the screen.

"Come and see," she invited.

We crowded around her and exclaimed in wondering admiration at the efficiency cabinet, its porcelain spotlessly white, its faucets shining, the tiny kitchen table with its [illegible] cooling trays, its orderly array upon it, and a small electric [illegible] with all the requirements for exceedingly light housekeeping.

"You know, little Mrs. Durkee announced when she had caught her breath. "I believe this here was a boarding house at one time. The woman who kept it lived in [illegible] room up [illegible] for herself or for the help she was obliged to keep. At any rate, there's a full sized bathroom through that door. It [illegible] pointed to the rear of the apartment—and this washstand was in that room. But as I told Edith she might as well get the good of it, for goodness knows there isn't a chance in the world of our ever [illegible] mail. You and Lilian she turned to me, but pettishly, has the only help there is left in the world and to tell you the truth I wouldn't have either one of 'em as a gift."

I guessed that Lilian was making the same strenuous effort to control her risibles at my little [illegible] a distinct relief to me. I knew that [illegible] had thrust the irritation which might otherwise have strengthened her continued concerning the decorations of Lil's room and I was rapidly developing what Dicky calls one of my "fool hunches" concerning her probable action in that direction.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff [illegible] that is to dissolve it entirely. To do this [illegible] ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, [illegible] and soft and look and feel a hundred times better.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder workers on the liver and bowels, which cause normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow [illegible] dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a little [illegible] no good feeling at all, or sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing result.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. [illegible]

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SAMMIE'S SLIPPER.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]
[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Here's a little letter that came for you this afternoon, when you were out looking for an adventure, Uncle Wiggily," spoke Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy to the muskrat lady housekeeper, as the bunny gentleman hopped back to his hollow stump bungalow one afternoon.

"A letter for me? How nice!" said Uncle Wiggily, as he read the letter, which was written on a piece of white birch bark with a piece of burned stick for a pencil.

"Who is it from?" asked Nurse Jane.

"It's a little note from Sammie and Susie Littletail, asking me to come over to tea. And they want you also, Nurse Jane."

"That's nice," said the muskrat lady. "Then I will not have to set the table here."

A little later she and Uncle Wiggily were at the rabbit home of Sammie and Susie Littletail.

"So glad to see you!" said Mrs. Littletail, as she let in Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane. "The children said they were going to invite you. I have carrot honey cakes for supper."

"Fine!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "But where are Sammie and Susie?"

"Oh, playing out in the yard," answered their mother. "I must tell them you are here so they'll come in. It is so cold and freezing they may catch the epizootic. Though they are sliding, skating and riding on their sleds so much they keep as warm as a boiled egg."

Into the rabbit house came rating Sammie and Susie when they heard Uncle Wiggily had arrived. The noses of the rabbit boy and girl which were usually pink, like the bunny gentleman's, were now as red as a beet, from the cold air.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! We're so glad you come!" cried Sammie. "Will you play some games with us after supper?"

"Of curse I will," answered Mr. Longears.

So when the meal was over, the rabbit children gathered around Uncle Wiggily, and while Nurse Jane and Mrs. Littletail talked about sewing and baking and the best way to dust dishes, Susie cried:

"Oh, let's play hunt the slipper!"

"Fine!" said Sammie. "I'll get one of my old slippers and we'll take turns hiding it."

The game started. It was Uncle Wiggily's turn to hide the slipper first and the rabbit gentleman stuck it under the edge of the piano.

Susie managed to find it and then it was her turn to hide the slipper. She put it inside the top cover of the phonograph and Sammie found it there.

"You'll never find where I hide it!" said the rabbit boy, "and then I'll have another turn!"

So while Susie and Uncle Wiggily covered their eyes, in order to play fair, and not peek, Sammie went out in the kitchen to hide his slipper. After a while he called:

"Ready now! Come and look!"

Well, Susie and Uncle Wiggily looked all over for that slipper, but they couldn't find it, and they were just going to give up, and have Sammie tell them where he had put it, when all at once, the front door was banged open and in popped the bad old Skidery-Scaley Alligator.

"I want to nibble Uncle Wiggily's ear!" cried the 'gator.

"Oh, you do, eh?" cried Sammie. "Well, first come out in the back yard and see my slipper."

"Your slipper, Sammie?" said Uncle Wiggily. "If you hid the slipper out in the back yard that wasn't fair."

"Never mind, let the Alligator

Down went the 'gator.

come out in the yard and see my slipper," said the rabbit boy, winking one eye at Uncle Wiggily.

"All right, and if the slipper fits me I'll take it home," said the unpleasant gator as he crawled out in the back yard, where the lamp from the kitchen window made it light. "Where is your slipper?" asked the gator. "I don't see any."

"There it is!" cried Sammie and he gave the bad creature a sudden push. Away down to the end of the back yard on the slippery, icy slide that Sammie and Susie had made that afternoon slid the 'gator, bumping his nose so hard against the back fence that he gave a howl, crawled over outside and didn't come back that day.

"I didn't know you meant a slippery icy slide!" said Uncle Wiggily when he and Susie and Sammie went back in the house, Sammie showing where he had hidden the slipper under the sink.

"I call a slide a 'slipper,' for you slip on it," laughed the rabbit boy. "And that 'gator surely slipped!"

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edwins

I guess those cars do not amount to much unless someone else has got them. I took mine to Sunday-school yesterday and everyone there had nuthen somethin' that had cars or something from worse than mine. Then when I got home my mother made me stay there. My grandfather said my ears was beginning to hang down like a hound pup's. Then he said he read in the paper that a copper man was froze up in Alaska, and I said I should think he would be because it was cold enough to freeze a brass monkey, then everyone laughed at me and my father said to my grandfather that he better let me stay up. I do not know what was funny about that.

When I go to school this morning Jonesy looked at my ears and said they was doing as well as could be expected. She said she had nursed lots of soldiers in the war. If I had of been her I would of let 'em freeze off and let the cars take care of themselves. I asked her what good cars are and she said people had to have them to hook their spectacles to when they get old. I had not thought of that. A horse's ears help to hold his bridle on. Jonesy is smart.

There was not any sun today and the sun was shining so that when I tried to make a snow ball at recess I made it easy, and when I hit the Lost Bag of Tripe in the eye with it it was so soft it spattered but the nut had to go in and tell Jonesy and she said I might stay an hour after school, and that is about the worst I ever got. She said the Lost Bag of Tripe's eye was all blood shot. If I catch him tomorra it will be all that shot.

When I had set a while and there was no one in the room but Jonesy and me, she put her hand up to her mouth so I would not see her gap and then she got up and walked around the room, and then she went to the window and then she opened it and hollered and motioned and pretty soon Younniss came in the room and Jonesy asked her what she meant by setting out on the curb this kind of weather, an' Younniss said she was waiting for me. Then Jonesy looked kinda funny and said I could go.

But we did not go right home. I had a piece of chalk and I made a man on a fence and pasted snow balls at it to show Younniss how I pasted the Lost Bag of Tripe, and then Younniss mother came looking for her and carried her home before one of her arms. All she only had one foot on the ground. Me and Jobiee went off whistling to show her we didn't care. But we did. Maybe her mother will let her out and need a friend sometime, and if she is looking for a friend and some man she does not know is Thomas Alistade because he has got whiskers, paints her in the eye with a snowball I wonder if she won't be shot.

HUN ATROCITIES TAME TO JAPAN'S IN KOREA

Dr. Myers Declares After Year's Tour in the Orient.

INDEPENDENCE OF PHILIPPINES A BLIND

M. E. Church Official Says Nipponese Are Preparing for Control of the Pacific.

Dr. G. H. Myers, of Chicago, national representative of the Methodist board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, who has just returned from a year's tour of the Orient, spoke on the Centenary movement and its work at the Epworth church Sunday morning.

"When the peace conference handed Shantung to Japan she gave the Japanese 32,000,000 people," said Dr. Myers. The menace of the Japanese in the Pacific was not minimized by Dr. Myers, who said that Japan had her eyes on the Philippines and that the agitation current now for independence of the island was a "clever and smooth piece of Japanese propaganda" that eclipsed any German propaganda put out during or since the war.

Must Retain Philippines.

Dr. Myers said that it was absolutely necessary for the United States to remain in control of the Philippines for the next fifteen or twenty years, because there are sixty-nine different languages spoken, and it will be necessary to take this length of time to build them into a homogeneous people well enough educated and civilized to repel a Japanese invasion.

Touching on Japanese atrocities in Korea, Dr. Myers said that "if all the atrocities committed by Germany in Belgium and France and all those committed by the Turk in Armenia were put together they would not equal what Japan has done and is doing in Korea, and yet her power is so complete that very little of this ever reaches the ears of the civilized world."

Then What Will Happen?

When Japan has completed her conquest of Korea and China she will then have the army and navy and she will be ready to contend with the United States for control of the Pacific ocean, Dr. Myers said. He said that Japan was building with feverish intensity a navy that in a few years will be equal to that of the United States and advocated the passage of the present naval building program that has been outlined by Secretary Daniels. He characterized Japan as the most subtle and treacherous of nations.

In speaking of condition in India, Dr. Myers said this country had not come under the influence of the Bolsheviki and was under the control of Christian missionaries. "The next ten years will prove whether India shall be a second Russia or become a great self-governed Christian nation," he said.

"As we sent our boys into battle to die for the liberties of the world so we must now send our young men and women to live for Christ and to save the world," Dr. Myers said.

Army Bill Passed.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The big army budget went through in record time of less than three hours. Opposition to the army increase in provisions and the total increase of $31,000,000 made over the house bill failed to materialize. In passing the army measure the senate added an amendment, requested by General Pershing, providing for promotion to the grade of lieutenant general Major Generals Hunter Liggett and Robert L. Bullard, who commanded field armies overseas.
